The role of a Transport Security Guard

Looking to build a career in safety beyond traditional site-based security? This role provides a unique opportunity to gain practical experience in the area of safe transportation and federal operations, where professionalism, situational awareness, communication and sound decision-making are essential every day.

As a transportation security guard, you will oversee supporting safe and secure transportation of people in a controlled environment. You will develop valuable experience in safe vehicle operations, escort procedures, communication, incident response, de-escalation, emergency procedures and detailed reporting.

For candidates pursuing a future career in policing, border services, corrections, sheriffs, public transit enforcement or other public safety roles, this position provides an excellent opportunity to create relevant experience, strengthen your CV and develop skills in a high-level environment.

If you are a motivated safety professional who thrives in dynamic environments and wants to build an experience beyond traditional security, this is your opportunity to join GardaWorld in a mission-oriented role where professionalism, teamwork, critical thinking and vigilance make a difference every day.
