The role of a Corporate Security Supervisor

As a departmental security supervisor, you will play a key leadership role in maintaining a safe and welcoming environment for employees, visitors and tenants. You will lead and support the security team, ensuring the smooth operation of daily operations while respecting the highest standards of professionalism, customer service and security. From supervising building access and safety procedures to conducting inspections, monitoring activities, responding to incidents, and supporting your team's performance, you will ensure that security operations are carried out in an efficient and consistent manner. As a visible leader and contact point, you will foster a service-oriented environment, build positive relationships with building stakeholders and lead the way in creating a safe and professional workplace.
