The position

RBC Capital Markets is part of Royal Bank of Canada, one of the world's largest financial services providers. RBC ranks among the top five North American market capitalized banks and holds one of the highest credit ratings of any financial institution in the world.

Our Global Investment Banking division provides underwriting of equity and debt capital along with strategic advisory services for leading corporations, institutions, and governments throughout North America and around the world. RBC Capital Markets is Canada's leading investment bank. We have built our successful investment banking business by focusing on our clients and the industry sectors in which they operate.

As part of RBC’s Global Investment Banking platform, the Project Advisory & Finance (PA&F) team works closely with coverage and product partners across North America to provide market leading advice to an expansive array of clients in the energy (midstream, pipelines, LNG, CCUS, biofuels, etc.), power (renewables, storage, transmission, etc.), digital infrastructure, and other sectors. The PA&F team leads the origination, structuring, diligence, and syndication of limited / non-recourse debt products across the spectrum of debt markets including commercial bank, institutional loan, high-yield and investment-grade debt capital markets. Additionally, the PA&F team provides comprehensive financial advisory services to project developers, joint ventures, marquee corporate clients and infrastructure funds as it relates to all stages of financing for large scale infrastructure projects, including construction, refinancing, M&A, etc.
